

Fuse

The distinctive character of the Fuse is the amalgamation of straight and curved lines. The organic-shaped basin with the subtle but sinuous integrated overflow on the inside is punctuated by the straight lines on the outside. The back edge where Fuse is mounted on the wall is set lower to create a floating effect and shelf space at the same time. The bottle trap is concealed underneath the basin to make the Fuse almost an object.

Fuse is available in white Cristalplant and also in a version that combines white Cristalplant with a soft touch coating on the outside.
